

Write Your One-Sentence Headline

One sentence to describe what you like and are good at.

WHY?

Describing what you are looking for increases the chances you will do well and be happy.

With this sentence, you can more easily introduce yourself and be nimble in conversation. Others will easily know what you have to offer and can be more helpful.

Your resume now has a clear assignment: write to persuade that you have the behaviors, attitudes, skills and knowledge aligned with your core message.

QUALITIES

1. Concise -one breath
2. Clear -can be understood and repeated back to you
3. Differentiating -so specific or unique that no one else says the same thing

EXAMPLES

Bringing biomedical education and the solution-finding skills of an engineer to roles communicating with clinicians.

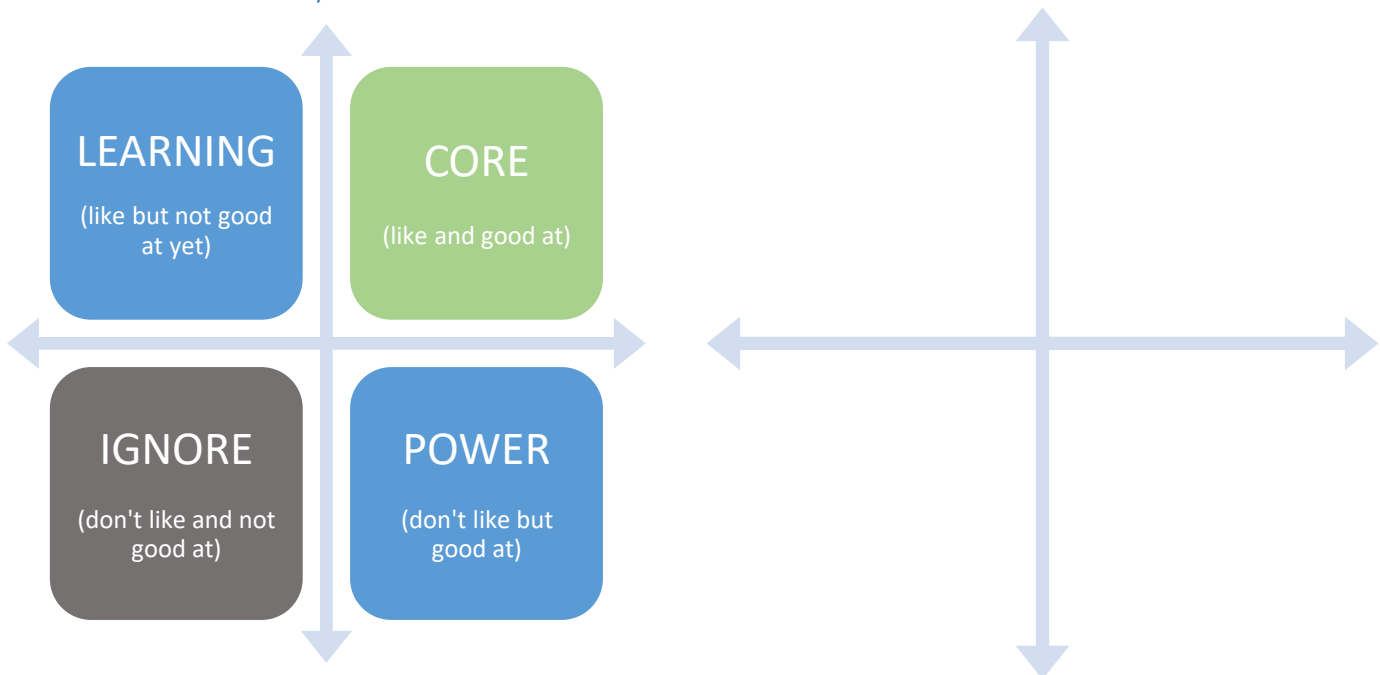

Solving data and engineering-driven challenges that define the future of entertainment.

Applying understanding of turbines to low-emissions energy production.

CONFIRM YOUR LIKE/GOOD AT BY DISTINGUISHING FROM OTHER CATEGORIES

USE THE BACK TO WRITE DOWN ALL OF YOUR DRAFTS